The Houston Museum of Natural Science:

Most museums focus on one specific collection, not this museum. The Houston Museum of Natural Science is the largest Natural Science in the USA with multiple unique collections such as: Fabergé (the largest and most extensive collection in the world), Hall of Egypt (one of the most diverse collections of over 6000 years of history), Paleo Hall (the largest dinosaur collection in the world), Energy Exhibit (a very impressive mind-blowing exhibit of energy and technology) and many more exhibits that are included in your entrance.

Add-On: Cockrell Butterfly Center

Enter a three-story glass atrium with a 50-foot waterfall cascading just steps away from you in this simulated rain forest, all the while admiring the beautiful and fascinating butterfly collection from around the world on display year-round.

Space Center Houston:

Houston's most popular attraction, the Space Center Houston has been the "Mission Control" of all space exploration missions since the 1960's. Various exhibit halls focus on different aspects of space exploration. Not to be missed (and included in your entrance) is your tram ride to "Mission Control" where history was made in 1969 with the Apollo 11, the first lunar landing, which was manned (coordinated) right here! This attraction fills up quickly, so it is highly recommended in reserving this package in advance to avoid missing this one-of-a-kind exhibit!
